2011 BARBARA CAPPOCHIN PRIZE

Created by the Barbara Cappochin Foundation in 2005, this prize aims to sensitise and bring together the various actors in the architectural sector - urban planners, contractors, promoters - to encourage quality planning and building in the natural and urban environment. The 2011 prize will recognise a project built between 1st July 2008 and 30 June 2011. It should express a vision of the future built upon respect for the past. Registrations and project submissions will be accepted online from 9 April to 30 June 2011.

AUSTRALIA

NATURAL ARTIFICE

From 14 to 16 April 2011, Melbourne, Australia, will host the Australian Institute of Architect's national conference on the theme Natural Artifice. Starting from the principle that most human activity and technology is artificial, while at the same time based on an observation of nature, the goal of this event is to invite eminent architects to lead an exploration of the relationship between natural and artificial from a contemporary and significant point of view for architectural design. Fumihiko Maki will pilot the debates along with Juhani Pallasmaa, Luis Mansilla, François Roche, Luis Callejas, Sebastian Meja, Lisa Iwamoto and Manuel Aires Mateus.

URBAN
CATASTROPHESBALBIR VERMA - WORK PROGRAMME DIRECTOR

Indian architect Balbir Verma will direct the newly re-formed UIA work programme on catastrophes in urban environments.

A graduate of the Chandigarh College of Architecture, Balbir Verma is in private practice in New Delhi. In parallel to his practice and teaching, he is dedicated to the action of professional institutions of architects, both in India where he has served as president of the institute of architects, and through his commitment to the UIA, where he has served as Council member and on the Professional Practice Commission.

Specialised in earthquake management in his home country, he is a member of the advisory committee of the National Information Centre on Earthquake Engineering, and of the Indian National Disaster Management Authority (NDMA). With the Indian Institute of Architects and the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), he has directed 25 programmes to raise awareness among architects on earthquake-resistant design in the built environment, throughout India and the countries that participate in the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation (SAARC).

ACTIVE
HOUSE ALLIANCEBUILDINGS THAT GIVE MORE THAN THEY TAKE

Within the framework of the European Union's sustainable energy week (11-15 April 2011), Active House is organising a symposium in Brussels, Belgium, on 14 April, dedicated to positive energy structures. The debates will look to the future of our building stock in order to define expectations for tomorrow's constructions.

Active House Alliance is a network of partners (businesses, universities, institutions, individuals) and an information centre to favour buildings that create healthier and more comfortable lives for their occupants without negative impact on the climate. The UIA is working with this network in the framework of its Sustainable by Design strategy.
